HOUSE TAKES BIT IN ITS MOUTH

In One of Stormiest Sessions in Its History Adopts Resolution For Amendment of Rules.

PARTY LINE WERE IGNORED.

Insurgents' Victory Not So Complete As They Amicipated-Dalzell Went Down to Defeat,

Washington, March 15 .- After one of the stormlest sessions in its history, the house of representatives today, regardiess of party alignment, adopted by a vote of 211 to 172 a resolution by Mr. Fitzgerald, Democrat, of New York, whereby the rules were amended in several important particulars.

The insurgents did not win the complete victory they counted on, but succeeded in bringing about an exceedingly lively session, and obliged the nujurity to adopt the Fitzgerald resolution, which is in the nature of a com-stitute for one offered by Mr. Clark of Missouri.

Its adoption was accomplished only after the 'insurgents," with the aid of the Democrats, with one or two exceptions, had won a decided preliminary victory by voting down a resolution by Mr. Daizell making the unamended rules of the Sixtieth Congress applicable to the present Congress.

A HEATED CONTROVERSY.

Mr. Fitzgerald at flish refused to yield. He ister did so, har Mr. Clark declined his profer of time, remarking that the New York member would live to regret his action, which called fortithe retort from Mr. Fitzgerald that h was not to be "scared by any threats.

DALZELL'S RESOLUTION.

The attention of all the numbers was concentrated on the rules. Mr. Dataell rose to offer the usual resolution providing that the rules of the previous Congress should govern the present Congress should govern the present Congress.

"And on that motion I move the previous question," he said quickly. It had been understood that for weeks this motion, designed to shut off delate, would be the signal for the long threatened fight on the rules. Mr. Clark of Missouri demanded the ayes and noes before Mr. Dalzell had regained his seat, while Mr. Fitzgerald of New York, under the guise of making a parliamentary inquiry of the chair, asked to have the rules exclaimed.

The speaker refused to enter into the proposition and sharply directed the clerk to proceed with the call. The vote resulted:

PRAISES CUTICURA

Daughter's Head Encrusted with Dandruff-Feared she Would Lose her Hair-Many Treatments were Futile - Baby had Milk-Crust.

BOTH CHILDREN CURED BY FAMOUS REMEDIES

"For several years my husband was a missionary in the Southwest, and we were living on the edge of the desert at an elevation of nearly five thousand feet. Every one in that high and dry atmosphere has more or less trouble with dandruff and my daughter's scalp became so encrusted with it that I was alarmed for fear she would lose all her hair, which was very heavy. After spending between five and six dollars for various remedies, in desperation I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Gintment. After rubbing the Cuticura Gintment. After rubbing the cuticura Gintment thoroughly into the roots of the hair. I gently combed the crust of dandruff free from the scalp, and then gave her head a thorough shampoo with the Cuticura Soap. This left the scalp beautifully clean and free from dandruff, and after the hair was dry. I again rubbed the Cuticura Gintment, this time sparingly, into the roots, and I am happy to say that the Cuticura Remedies were a complete success. My troubles with dandruff were over, although for a long time afterward I used the Cuticura Ointment as at first, after shampooing, which kept the scalp and roots of the hair moist. I have used successfully the Cuticura Remedies for so-called 'milk-crust' on baby's head, and have never found anything to equal them. You are at liberty to publish this letter, for I do sincerely believe that the Cuticura Remedies are a blessing to mankind. Mrs. J. A. Darling, 310 Fifth St., Carthage, Ohio, Jan. 20, 1908."

Cuticura Olntment is one of the most successful curatives for lorturing, disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp, including less of hair, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anciuting with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed, when necessary, by a mild dose of Cuticura Resolvent (liquid or pills) is often sufficient to afford immediate relief of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, irritations and inflammationa. permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when all else fails.

On the adoption of the resolution the Democrats forced another rollcall, but before this was begun the speaker, Champ Clak and Mr. Fitzgerald became

CLARK AND DALZELL

The Republicans forced a rollcall on Mr. Clark's motion for the previous question and the call had not proceed-ed far when Mr. Clark demanded that speaker's desk. He had observed Mr. Dalzell on the rostrum and called pareticular attention to that fact,

"There is a member of the house getting your resolution, which he has a perfect right to have," angrily replied Mr. Dalzell from the rostrum, General turnoil ensued.

Mr. Clark was insisting that Mr. Dalzell be ordered away.

"The gentleman from Missouri is not in order," Speaker Cannon announced.

"Oh, h-il," a member audibly re-marked in disgust. The speaker halted the rollcall and aid he did so because of the high haracter and standing of Messrs. Dal-character and standing of Messys. Dat-zell and Clark. "And now," he said, "the gentleman from Pennsylvania has the form of the resolution." "He could have had it by asking me for a copy," hotly remarked Mr. Clark. With warmth Mr. Dalzell interjected that he had a copy of the resolution and so saying he left the rostrum and took his gent.

The rollcall proceeded.

The motion of Mr. Clark for the pre-cious question was voted down, 179 to

Mr. Fitzgerald of New York immedi Mr. Fitzgerald of New York immediately offered a resolution modifying the present rules. His resolution eliminated the present requirement of obtaining the consent of the speaker for the submission of bills under unanimous consent: required that before the close of a session of Congress all reported bills shall be placed on a calendar where there may be a chance for their consideration; made necessary a twoconsideration; made necessary a two-thirds instead of a majority vote to set aside calendar Wednesday and pro-vides for a modification of the present power of the committee on rules to force a vote on a bill.

FITZGERALD AND CLARK.

Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Clark. both Democrats, became involved in a sharp colloquy. Mr. Fitzgerald had yielded to the minority leader for a question, but he proceeded to propound it to Mr. Dalzell. The New York member insisted that it was an abuse of his conressy and that the question should be asked of him.

"I am going to do it and I don't want any slack jaw about it," retorted Mr. Clark.

"I decline to yield." replied Mr. Fitz-

"I decline to yield." replied Mr. Fitzgerald, amid Republican applause.
Mr. Clark appealed to the speaker that Mr. Fitzgerald actually had yielded to him.

"Well, I take it back." said Mr. Fitzgerald with some show of temper.

"You will wish you had yielded."
was Mr. Clark's rejoinder.

Mr. Fitzgerald remarked that he was not going to be scared by any threat,
He declared no man could take advantage of his courtesy and then abuse him.

I now yield to the gentleman from Missouri," said he.
"I absolutely refuse to accept." re-sponded Mr. Clark.
When Mr. Fitzgerald concluded Mr.

ark got the stoor.
"The fig is up with the house mu-sine," he said, amid great Democratic plause. Pouching the incident with Mr. Pitzgerald, he said he had entertained to-ward him feelings of respect and re-gard, and had the New York member heen in sympathy with his ideas re-garding the amendment of the rules his name would have been the first to be suggested by him for the rules com-mittee.

Mr. Clark declared that he regretted ecceldingly to part company with Mr. liverald. He contended that untside the house the demand for the change of the rules was so strong as to force change, and it inust come, if not now, hen later. He was friendly personally to the speaker, but was opposed to his system. He complimented the insurgent" Republicans on withstand-

HOW I MADE MY HAIR GROW

Woman With Mervelously Beautiful Hair Gives Simple Home Prescription Which She Used With Most Remarkable Results.

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally falled; many of them made my hair greasy so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious, and from my own experience I cannot too strongly cantion you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other polsonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures I finally found a simple prescription which I used with most remarkable results, and I can unbesitatingly state that it is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair. I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it and obtained wonderful effects therefrom. It not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair, and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dandruff, giving the hair life and brillancy, etc., and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition. It also makes the hair much safer to comb and arrange in most form. I have a friend who used it two months, and during that time it not only stopped the falling of his hair, and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all of his gray hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any druggist. The prescription is as follows:

s follows:

Bay rum, 8 oz., Menthol crystal, ne-half druchm; Lavona de Comosee, 2 oz; To-Kalon perfume, 1 to 2 easpoonfuls. Apply night and morning, rub thor-ughly into the scalp.

Go to your druggist and sak for the eight ounce bottle containing six ounces of Bay Rum, also one-half drachm of Menthol crystals and for a ing the combined influence of the house "machine;" of the president, fresh in office, with the "pap" undis-tributed; of all the cabinet, the senate ributed; of all the cability, eegulars and the local newspapers. He was sure that as they had stood against these powerful influences they would continue to stand. He was would continue to stand. He was equally certain that the Democrats would hold firm.

Replying to questions from Mr. Mana (III.) Mr. Clark declared that "we intend to do the things that will enable us to revise these rules."

Mr. Olmstead (Penn.) demanded the previous question on the Clark resolution and the Fitzgerald amendment thereto. Then it was decided to continue to debate an hour longer and the demand was withdrawn.

Mr. Gardner declared President Taft was in sympathy with the movement to change the rules.

Mr. Townsend declared the "insurgents" were seeking cheap notoricty at home.

Declaring himself as believing the Declaring himself as believing the rules of the last house were the best that could be devisel, Mr. Dalzell said the only members objecting were those who knew nothing about them. He declared the rules were the evolution of 120 years of parliamentary experience and represented the wisdom of the best and most accomplished statesmen of the last two decades of American history.

The debate was closed by Mr. Fitzgerald, who declared there had not been a legitimate criticism of the rules.

"Why did you not submit your resolution to the Democratic caucus?" asked Mr. Pujo (La.).

"Because," retorted Mr. Fitzgerald.
"I could get only three minutes of a Democratic caucus to state my position on the rules."

Mr. Fitzgerald charged that the Democrats had suggested nothing but delay.

"I suggest some substantial reform," he said "You had the opportunity
